COLUMBIA. S. Thursday Moraing, December 2, 1889 A Combination Proposed for the Public

There are certain elements, distinct and diversa, that make up the voting population of Bouth Carolins. We have the great mass of the whites, who are united in views and sympathies, in memories and aspirations. We have the great mass of the solered people, naturally united by strong ties of blood, tastes and feelings. We have the class of native-born Carolinians, who have united with the colored voters which class, however, is very small in this State; and we have, lastly, the political adventurers, who have come South to use their influence with the blacks in promoting their ends of gain or preferment. Now, with regard to these three elements last referred to, we will admit that there are some good men, who are ready to move for the general welfare. To these men we have a word to say it is this: That the time has come for them to break their party shackles, and unite in the effort to give to South Carolina an era of peace, progress and prosperity. We speak for the wants of the sober, discreet and solid sitizens of South Carolina. We want in South Carolina a state of affairs harmosious and normal. We desire to see the welfare of all classes of our people pronoted. We desire to see the advantages of education extended to all having human souls in the State. We desire to have honest and capable men in office. We desire to have our public affairs wisely and economically administered. We wish to attract to our State foreign abor and capital. We want South Caroina to go. forward on a career of prosperity that will shed its light upon the numblest home. This is what the people want. Unfettered by hostile enactments, they want the chance to better their broken fortunes, and provide for their imoverished families. But we are satisfied hat all this is utterly impossible, under he present corrupt and inefficient regime, hat depresses the State and divides the people. Hence our proposition to the ntelligent radical, white as well as black. Your party is retarding the prosperity of he State. It fetters enterprise. It drives way capital. Emerge from your turbid aters. Unite with the intelligence and rirtuous elements of the State, and toether let us work for the enduring good of South Carolina.

Encouragement of Manufactures---The Apprentice System.

The proposition of Governor Scott, in his message, to exempt manufactories from taxation for five years, is good just o far as it will have the effect in this State of developing this important branch f industry. We have frequently urged he importance of our people engaging nore largely and generally in manufacures. To improve our agricultural sysem, to increase our products, and then o work up here at home our raw proucts of the fields, the woods, and the nines: this is the way to the solid buildng up of our State. This will bring us umbers-this will bring us wealth-this will bring us prosperity-this will give s power. Long before the Governor aid it, we have said to our people, in arnest words, let us work—in our fields. our work-shops, with our hands, with ir brains. The recommendation of loverner Scott to establish an apprenceship system-this deserves the coneration of the present Legislature. But can this body turn aside from wild chemes to sensible legislation? We shall

SWEDISH IMMIGRANTS FOR SOUTH CARO-INA. - The Charleston News, of yester-

ay, says:
"Mr. W. J. Ferlow, who was some me ago appointed one of the immigraon agents of the State, and who, for any months past, has been diligently twork in the North of Europe to turn portion of the tide of immigration toards South Carolina, arrived in this ity yesterday from Malmo, Sweden, ringing with him twenty-six Swedish nmigrants, mostly farmers, masons and arpenters. The new comers all expect be select homes in the interior of our

Mr. Ferlow says that he can induce the nmigration of any number of Swedes, anes and Germans to South Carolina, planters who desire such laborers will o-operate with him by advancing a por-on of the passage money.

Blue Ridge Railroad-Light Breaking In reply to the inquiries of "A Railroad Man," in Saturday morning's PHOR-NIX, it has been discovered by those who know, that the "Blue Ridge" is not dead, and no purpose exists in the minds of its present guardians to strangle it, or permit it to die for want of pabulum. On the contrary, if the contract with Cresswell & Co. has, in fact, been rescinded, as to which, more will be developed on the meeting of the Direction, it has only been done to allow those in authority to "roll up their sleeves," "spit in their hands," and take a new hold that will enable them to press forward the great work to its early completion, with out calling on the State to meet accruing interest, or for further aid at present. In other words, the contract with Cresswell & Co. is merely in abeyance, and it a renewal is not made with them, the work will be let to other contractors, upon a new basis, covering terms much more advantageous to the State, and assuring the construction in due time of this most important line of internal commerce. When the contract with Cresswell & Co. was made, gold was at a premium of forty per cent., and the estimates in currency were made upon that basis. Now, gold has receded to twentyfour per cent. and is rapidly tending downwards, which will enable the Com-pany to construct the work for an aggregate sum so greatly reduced as to approximate the original maximum esti-mates of Col. Guinn. The public may rest assured, therefore, that the present apparent condition of things, is the result of a wise policy on the part of the Blue Ridge Company, and that no pur-pose exists in the mind of the President, Governor Scott, or any one clse, to abandon the work. Indeed, as matters now stand, that cannot be done. Other contracts have been entered into, in relation to the work, beside that with Cresswell & Co., and altogether some $300,000 or $400,000 of the guaranteed bonds of the Company have been pledged by law and practically appropriated to a continuation of the enterprise. To abandon it now, Nove therefore, would not only involve the total loss of the $3,000,000 formerly pended by the State and the people, would be a downright repudiation contracts recently made, and a sacri of, perhaps, $4 of the new bor The Govern somewhat eni but beneath th nently judicio complish the standing the caused him t a repeal of t he has no pu play the role have proper ders to the lature stult it were po tion in the t on the contrary, whilst seconding the policy of the Company at present, it will, at the proper time, see that "the Blue Ridge," incomparably the greatest work that has ever been suggested for the development and redemption of the resources of the State and the only one to which its interest and honor are alike pledged, is pressed to its triumphant completion. members of that body are largely colored men, but they are more largely Carolinians to the manor born, whilst others ties. claim to be Carolinians by adoption-in actual pedis possessio, by their carpet-bags—and they all know that in this matter their own honor and faith, as well as the interests and honor of the whole State are deeply involved, and demand that this great work be consummated, whatever else fails. It is, therefore, quite certain, that the Blue Ridge Company, Governor Scott and the Legislature, will be found, on this subject,

ALL RIGHT.

More Outlawry in Kentucky. -- A desperate character, named Cooper, who had been whipped by a party of regulators in Luiaski County, caused the arrest of some of his neighbors, whom he accused of the whipping. Saturday morning was tixed for the trial, and Cooper and his friends entered Somerset, the Countyseat, armed to the teeth. Here the ac cused party, numbering twenty, and Cooper, with his confederates, equally strong, engaged in a quarrel, which culminated in a regular pitched battle. 150 shots were fired, resulting in the killing of three men, named Dodd, Dunton, and William Pleasants, and the mortal wounding of one, James Pleasants, The fight was abated by mutual consent, both parties being out of ammunition. Shortly after, each party (having recruited its forces) were about to re-enter the lawn, but armed citizens warned them off.
